

MAN LIES IN WAIT YOUNG MAN

Girl Teacher at Sudbury Is His Victim--Posse Hunting for Assailant

England, Vt., Nov. 6.—Although way. As was her custom, Miss Meehan drove to the schoolhouse this morning with E. H. Parham, with whom she boarded. He left her at the door and drove along the road to pick up some of the scholars, being employed by the town to do this work.

The story of the wait and the subsequent attack in the lonely schoolhouse borders on the fantastic. Late tonight Miss Meehan was suffering greatly from the shock, though it is expected she will recover.

Absolutely no trace can be discovered of the criminal. In addition, only a haggard description of him can be obtained, his victim being the only one who can assist the officers along this line, and her nerves were in such a condition that she was not questioned more than was absolutely necessary.

There is one clue to which the officers are pinning their faith and that is the color of the shirt worn by the man. He was dressed in black cap and coat and a flannel shirt of a red and black check. He is about 40 years old, about 5 feet 5 inches in height, quite heavily built, has a heavy mustache, though not long, and he had a growth of beard.

The schoolhouse in which the crime was committed situated in the northern part of the town of Sudbury very near the Addison County line. It is less than 40 rods from the nearest dwelling and just off the main highway.

KILLED WHEN AUTO TURNED TURTLE

Chas. H. Flewelling Thrown Against
Stone Wall and Skull Fractured-- Other Occupants Escape With Minor Injuries--Car a Wreck.

Charles H. Flewelling, age 19 of medietate taken in the automobiles, No. 3, Hollis, Place, Boston, was killed and Archie Littlefield, age 32, car, and Littlefield in Dr. Walker's, of Kennebunk, and Walter Kelley of Kennebunk, were badly injured. At the hospital it was at once seen that there was little hope of Flewelling, as he had a bad fracture of the head, when an automobile owned and driven by Littlefield turned turtle and threw all three out of the machine.

The accident happened on the Newington road just across the Newington line where the Gosling road crosses, and it was due according to Littlefield to the breaking of the steering post. There is some question if this was the real cause.

When the car went over Flewelling was thrown with great force and struck on the right side of his head on the stone wall, and lay in a heap.

Littlefield was thrown clear of the car while Kelley was pinned under the machine.

Samuel Adams, a driver for Weaver, came along in a machine a few minutes after the accident happened and he with a farmer succeeded in pulling Kelley from under the car, and Mr. Adams telephoned Drs. Towle and Walker.

They immediately left in their automobile for the scene of the accident and found Littlefield practically uninjured, but Flewelling and Kelley were unconscious, and they were immediately taken to the hospital.

NEGRO EDUCATOR LOSES HIS SUIT

Assailant of Booker T. Washington Acquitted--Alleged
He Insulted Ulrich's Wife and Peaked Through Keyhole

New York, Nov. 6.—Booker T. Washington's directory in an effort to find a position, the negro educator, failed to find a position at law for the alleged assault which he received at the hands of Henry A. Ulrich, a white man, on Sunday evening, March 19.

Ulrich was acquitted late today of the charge of assault which Dr. Washington preferred against him.

After the fight which started in the vestibule of an apartment house, where Ulrich lived at 11-12 East Sixty-third street, Dr. Washington was laid up at the hospital for several days.

Dr. Washington's version of the affair related on the stand today was the same that he offered at the time of the altercation. He swore he was not peeping into any keyholes, and that he was only searching the ten-

Charles Lloyd was charged with receiving stolen goods, and he was held in $100 bonds for the upper court.

Barney Doherty was charged with being drunk and fined $10 and cost.

came upon the combatants placed Dr. Washington under arrest on the white man's complaint; but when they reached the station house, and the colored man told his story, positions were reversed. Ulrich was arrested on a charge of assault, and his trial, after many delays, was called today.

The defendant brought as his counsel James L. Moore, who was one of the first contributors to a fund for the development of Tuskegee institute, of which Dr. Washington is the head. Ulrich says that Moore volunteered his services. A statement issued by Dr. Washington at the time of the alleged assault said that he was reading the tenants' directory in the vestibule of the apartment house in an effort to find a woman. The nature of Ulrich's defense was foreshadowed by his previous assertions that he found Dr. Washington peeping through the keyhole of a door on the ground floor and that a woman with whom he (Ulrich) roomed told him she had been annoyed by the colored man while passing through the corridor.

James Crowe, a banker's clerk, said that a Mrs. Alvarez, with whom Ulrich roomed, said to the officer: "It's a good thing you caught that thief. He has been hanging around this house all night."

"In the station house," said Patrolman Benjamin S. Tierney, who arrested Washington, "Ulrich charged Washington with attempted burglary and with insulting his wife."

On cross-examination, Mr. Moore asked: "Did Washington explain who he was on the way to the station house?"

"No," said Tierney.

"What was his condition as to sobriety?"

"It was normal."

Dr. Washington then told his story. He said it was about a quarter past nine when he was in Ulrich's home.

"The defendant ran into the hallway and assaulted me," he said.

"He grabbed me by the throat and choked me and hit me with his fists. I tried to defend myself, but he was getting the better of me, and I opened the doors and stepped into the street. There were two men on the street and Ulrich asked one of them for a stick he carried. He hit me a dozen times, I should say, with the stick."

"I said to him: 'Don't beat me this way. If I'm breaking the law call an officer and have me arrested, if I'm doing anything wrong.' When I reached Central Park West I was so weak that I fell. Two men were beating me."

"What were you doing there?" asked Justice Seeler.

"I was looking at the door plates," said the educator.

"You went to that house two or three times," asked Mr. Moore, on cross examination.

"I went first at about a quarter to nine," the witness said. "I was looking for a friend."

"White or colored?" The assistant district attorney objected, but was overruled.

"They were white," replied Dr. Washington.

Detective Hagan testified that he saw Ulrich running after Dr. Washington and that when he came up to them he found Dr. Washington on his hands and knees.

"Dr. Washington was bleeding on the head," said Detective Hagan. "Ulrich said: 'This man is a thief. I found him with his hand on the door-knob and his eye at the keyhole.'"

"On the way to the station house, Ulrich remarked that it was a good thing I had come up, for if I hadn't, he would have knocked the negro's brains out. There was another man with us and he said: 'I think he was after those two young girls.' Ulrich then said that he thought he might challenge the charge of attempted burglary to something else, but I told him I didn't think he had much of a case anyway."

The detective said that Ulrich told him this wife had met the colored man while taking a dog out for an airing and was afraid to go out again. It was then that Ulrich went out with a cane, according to Ulrich's remark to the detective.

Dr. Washington said he was looking for D. C. Smith, auditor of his school, but the name he expected to find on the vestibule directory was McClure, since he had been informed that Mr. Smith was staying with a family of that name.

"When you were in the vestibule, did two young ladies pass you?"

"I am not sure."

"Did you talk to any ladies in the vestibule?"

"No sir."

The witness said that in his private talk with the lieutenant at the police station he stated that he was a busy man who had no time to spend in open court, and that the lieutenant had advised him to make a complaint against Ulrich.

Here the prosecution rested and the court denied the motion of the defense to dismiss the complaint, as not proved.

LIVELY RUNAWAY

Horse Owned by Mr. Schurman Takes a Long Run

A bay horse owned by James W. Schurman, separated itself from its bride which was attached to a post near the Schurman seed store on Market street Monday forenoon, and raced through the street in splendid glee. Narrowly avoiding a coal delivery wagon driven by James P. Brooks and a buggy of H. A. Yeaton, the horse turned suddenly into Russell street. The wagon turned a somersault and was smashed beyond repair. The horse was captured near the Schurman farm on Trotting Park road, about four miles.

SURE TO BREAK A SEVERE COLD

How to Cure a Bad Cold and End Grippe Misery in a Few Hours

The most severe cold will be broken and all gripe misery ended after taking a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

You will distinctly feel all the disagreeable symptoms leaving after the very first dose.

The most miserable headache, dizziness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, running of the nose, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness, rheumatism pains and other distress vanishes.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or gripe.

Take this harmless Compound, as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world which will cure your cold or end gripe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

BITS OF SPORT

Referee William Woods has the following to say of the Portsmouth and Dover High school game on Saturday last:

"The Dover crowd was upon the field hindering the Portsmouth players at every opportunity. At least one touchdown for Portsmouth was prevented by the crowd."

"I have played in Dover in my school days and I have been there to see other high school teams play and I know that they have always been given a dirty deal by the Dover public, but I never saw a dirtier exhibition than yesterday. If I were Captain Boomer I would have called my team off the field in the first period."

The question now discussed among baseball fans is who will be the next manager of the Cincinnati club. There have been about 100 named for the job but Garry Hermann has his eye on one man and expects to land him. Who this man is, no one knows. It may be Joe Tinker and it may be Johnny Evers. It has been a long time since a manager has made a success in Redland, and if any man takes hold and makes good at the position, nothing will be too good for him.

Connie Mack's choice of Danny Murphy as captain of the Athletics to succeed Harry Davis, who goes to Cleveland, is a popular one with all baseball fans. Murphy is one of the most popular players connected with the game at the present time, and his long service with the Mack men has entitled him to the honor. He is a player on the lines of Harry Davis one who is quiet, but always playing the game for all it is worth, and has a tendency for breaking up contests with his long hits.

The big football contest of the year in this state will come off at Exeter next Saturday when the Granite state lads will line up against their rivals from Andover. Both teams have been going along nicely of late and it is hard to pick a winner. Exeter's victory over the Harvard second team last Saturday has sent her stock soaring, and the supporters of the crimson expect a victory. But the Andover eleven is a powerful one, and it looks as if this coming battle will be one of the hardest fought between the schools in recent years.

The great Mordecai Brown says that he is not going to quit the Chicago National league baseball club. This would have been startling news a few years ago, but just now it does not cause a flutter in the baseball world. The Three Fingers One is rapidly nearing the end of his rope as a big league twirler, and his loss will not be such a terrible blow to the Chance outfit.

A BOSTON GIRL'S BUDGET

Boston, Nov. 4.—Alice Stone Blackwell again proves her self not only a suffragist, but a philanthropist. Miss Blackwell, as was brought to light at the forty-ninth annual meeting of the New England Hospital for Women and Children, held on October 31st, has presented her home on Boutwell avenue, Dorchester, for the hospital for use as a convalescent home. This gift is in the nature of a memorial to the already notable list of public benefactions and good works of this trio of suffrage leaders.

That even the milk from the "model" farms, subject to rigorous inspection and regulation, should be pasteurized as well as all milk miscellaneous sources, is a conclusion reached by Professor C. E. A. Winslow of New York in his investigation of the tonsillitis epidemic which occurred in Eastern Massachusetts last May. Professor Winslow's report has just been delivered before the Suffolk County Medical Association, and contains evidence of very thorough research. While the source of infection was traced directly to one large milk producing farm, there is no evidence that the infection of the milk was due to carelessness of management or to diseased cows, and Professor Winslow declares emphatically that the best care that is humanly possible is liable to failure in the long run unless pasteurization is made universal. The question as to what stand the state should take in regulating the production of milk was brought up at the meeting of the medical association. In this connection Professor Winslow maintained that if all milk were pasteurized much of the regulation and inspection now deemed necessary could be done away with, thus reducing the cost of this necessity to the ultimate consumer. Simultaneously with the project of the Forsyth Dental Infirmary, now in process of construction in the Fenway, comes the formation of what is probably the first large society for dental laboratory research in this country—the Harriet N. Lowell Society for Dental Research, whose membership is open to the faculty and students of the Harvard Dental school. Harriet Lowell was a level-headed business woman of the Hub who some years ago bequeathed a sum of money, the interest from which was divided between the medical and dental departments of Harvard for the purpose of research work. Under this bequest research has been going on for some time, the fundamental object being to render dentistry a preventive rather than curative profession. The formation of the Society for Dental Research has aroused much interest among professional people, and it is expected to place the profession upon a higher plane in the mind of the layman, while affording opportunities for investigation which will be of untold benefit to prevent and future generations. Every member is expected to devote a given time during his college course to research work on a given subject, thus bringing many branches of the profession under more careful study than has ever been possible. The first meeting of the Society is scheduled for early next month, it having been organized at the opening of the present school year, and it is expected that interesting results will be evident in even this short time.

MADERO NOW PRESIDENT OF MEXICO

Mexico City, Nov. 6.—Formalities connected with Francisco L. Madero's inauguration as president today were simple and brief. The city was decorated, but the program of the day called for no festivities and no ceremony except those provided by law and custom.

Madero took the oath, or as is prescribed by Mexican law, "protest," in the Chamber of Deputies, before a joint meeting of both houses of Congress, the oath being administered by the president of the chamber. He made no inaugural address, but left immediately for the National Palace, where Francisco Leon de la Barra, who has been the provisional president since the departure of Gen. Diaz, awaited him.

De la Barra removed from his breast the tricolor band, insignia of the presidency and Madero donned it.

YOUNG MAN KILLED WHEN AUTO TURNED

They came from Kennebunk on Monday morning and proceeded to do the town. They were successful in some directions and some time in their travels met young Fawcett, and he agreed to take a ride to Kennebunk and come back on the train. They started about two o'clock and went down Market street and where the street was closed for paving, they stalled the car. They appeared not to know what to do, and Thomas Fitzgibbons, in charge of the paving job, cranked their car and then ran it to the top of the Russell street hill. Littlefield and Kelley had evidently been drinking, but the young fellow was apparently all right.

The car, a Flanders 20, carried an agent's number of the state of Maine, and it was next seen before the accident on Maplewood avenue, where they came near running into a wagon. It was evident that they were going over the new section of the state highway at a good clip and when they struck the old road, the car got away from the driver and went into the ditch and turned completely over lodging up against an apple tree. It is very much of a wreck, the body being beyond repairs.

Kelley and Littlefield did not know Fawcett's name, for at the hospital when Littlefield was informed that his injuries were fatal, and asked for his name he could not give it, saying that they had met that morning and he had never seen him before that time. He was identified, however, by cards and letters in his pocket, and also the information gained that he was employed with A. Glendon & Co., 113 South Market street, Boston. Dr. Towle immediately notified his employees and they stated that they did not know who his parents were, he had come to work for them a year before and had worked his way until he had been sent out on the road, and he was a bright and capable young fellow. Later they located his parents, who are Mr. and Mrs. Edmund T. Fawcett, of 70 Popliff street, Dorchester. One of his brothers immediately left for this city. But Charles was dead when he arrived.

His father came on a later train and they arranged for the body to be sent home by Undertaker O. W. Ham.

At the hospital Littlefield claimed that the steering gear broke and he lost control of the car, but an examination of the wreck of the car shows that he was mistaken, and the accident was due to other causes. During the afternoon and evening a large number visited the wreck and it was still lying bottom side up along side of the road late last night.

Fawcett came to this city on the late train Sunday night and stopped at the Langdon Hotel.

SUPERIOR COURT.

Case of Blaisdell vs. Railroad Being Heard by a Jury.

In Superior court on Monday afternoon the civil case of Blaisdell vs. the railroad was called. This is an action brought by Mr. Eben H. Blaisdell to recover damages from the Boston and Maine railroad, for injuries received he alleges through the negligence of the railroad. The allegation is that Mr. Blaisdell while driving out Middle street in his carriage, was struck by the running board of one of the defendant's cars and the wheel broken and the shock threw Mr. Blaisdell backward into the wagon and he received severe injuries, which will be permanent.

A jury was empaneled and they viewed the scene of the accident and the case will take all of today. Lawyers E. L. Gupta and S. W. W. Emery, Jr., for the plaintiff; Kelley, Harding and Hatch, Page Bartlett and Mitchell for the railroad.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1911.
A LAME EXCUSE
Of late when an automobile accident has occurred it has been attributed to the breaking of the steering gear or some other faulty mechanism. It is however is not always the fault of the mechanism of the car, but in a great many cases the fault of the party who is operating the machine as was in the case of Monday's fatal accident whereby young Lewell lost his life.
According to eye witnesses the driver of the car was totally unfitted to operate the car and had to be assisted by Mr. Fitzgibbons to get out of his predicament on Market street. At this time the driver of the machine was as much of a menace to the general public as a quantity of gunpowder or loose dynamite and Mr. Fitzgibbons would have been justified in notifying the police to take the driver of the automobile into custody.
On Maplewood avenue several persons narrowly escaped being struck by the automobile which was being driven at a high rate of speed. All circumstances to be considered, it would seem as though yesterday's loss of life could be attributed more to a reckless and incapable driver than faulty mechanism. The full penalty of the law should be imposed upon these violators of public safety and after some wholesome lessons are administered, perhaps the general public will enjoy more safety.

BIRD'S EYE VIEWS
The democratic party can hardly be expected to kill a fatted calf every time William R. Hearst decides to go back home.
Some of the most diverting and accomplished actors seem to be actors when it comes to cheering up the home folks.
The employment of great wealth to capitalize a family quarrel is bound to look like a waste of resources.
Mr. Roosevelt has the faculty of making a number of people nervous by simply keeping quiet.
The small boy seems to have forgotten all about the observance of Pope night. Perhaps it is just as well.
Dover high school boys seem to have revived some of the dirty football tactics that were prevalent with that school some years ago.

It is especially reported that the Triangle shirt-waist factory or Asch building in New York was 35 much better equipped against fire or earthquake than many factories that it was almost a model of theoretical safety against disasters. Nevertheless, it will be hoped that the officials will begin with models like that one and extend their labors of presumptive life-saving down to the worst factories.
Cyrilide has put Paris green and rat poison practically out of the market for homicidal purposes.
Cement is coming into such general use that the bricklayers and masons think their business imperilled; and they have just applied to the New York Public Service Commission for the construction of the future tunnels of the city of brick. Assuredly for cutting out movements of the hand, the use of cement is a factor of efficiency which no friend of any system has hoped to excel.
It has been decided that the Sullivan "gun" law in New York was not intended to prevent a person from keeping a revolver in the house to protect himself and his family. As this decision implies that the firearms manufacturing concerns can still look for customers in metropolitan homes, it disposes of all the reasonable opposition to the law.
Speaker Clark is repeating his annexation talk. It may be that if he makes a specialty of it, as Cato did of his view of Carthage, winding up his every speech in the Senate, no matter what the subject, with "Carthago delenda est," this Missourian will reap a sort of fame as a historic figure in American life.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES
The Arbitration Treaty.
The civilized world approves every move toward the ending of war, and every step toward the adoption of international arbitration. One of the strongest things to be said in favor of the Taft administration is the President's earnestness that certain arbitration treaties should be ratified, and the danger of future wars to some extent removed. American civilization approves most heartily of the President's attitude. It is shocked, therefore, to read what ex-President Roosevelt has written concerning the President's pet hope for his administration, and civilization best hope for its own future progress. It is little short of an insult to the character of the American people who have ignored him so signally, for Mr. Roosevelt to say that if we were to ratify the treaties which President Taft's administration has made, such action would be insincere, and that we should have no expectation of keeping the promises which we put on paper. The ex-President's view of the character and purpose of the American people, indicates a decline in his respect for them, and perhaps it would not be too much to say that if this indication be true, it is mutual. A treaty is analogous to a contract in private life, an agreement entered into between governments. No greater reproach could be brought upon an individual than to charge that he had entered into a contract without purposing to fulfill the same. And no greater reproach could be laid at the doors of a sovereign people than the charge that they would enter into a contract or agreement with other nations without the purpose fully to live up to that agreement. The opinion of a man, whether he be an ex-President or an average citizen, as to the comparative desirability of peace and war is that man's personal right. We have no disposition to quarrel with Mr. Roosevelt's views so far as they are those personal, but when he makes a declaration reflecting upon the sincerity of the American people as a whole, it is subject for public resentment.—Portland Express.

Italy and Europe.
It is already obvious that Italy's adventure in Tripolitania will affect materially her relations with the other European Powers. It might almost be said, indeed, that the Triple Alliance is at an end. While the German and Austrian Governments so far have maintained a correct attitude of neutrality, the press in both countries has been distinctly hostile. Moreover, it has caused great irritation among the Italians by showing a too implicit belief in the stories of campaign atrocities. There has probably been a considerable slaughter of Arabs; possibly there have been isolated outrages beyond what civilized war permits. But the stories of wholesale destruction lack confirmation. On the contrary, they are emphatically denied by such trustworthy witnesses as the American consul at Tripoli and the correspondent of the London Chronicle. Prisoners who were fighting with the Turkish forces were treated with due respect. But those who, after surrendering, shot at the Italian troops from the rear were killed. Any army would have been compelled to do the same for self-protection. If non-combatants were accidentally killed, that was simply a misfortune which happens in every war.

The Rage for Styles
A recent effort by the Springfield Republican to persuade women to reject certain fashions is said to have met "an encouraging response." These are the fashions which it describes as "changing and too often silly fashions in millinery and gowns, that are ordered in a purely arbitrary way for money-making purposes." It is fortunate now in being able to quote Miss Lillian Russell, who says:
The fight for styles is causing more crimes and unhappiness in this country than liquor. Nearly every other woman in the land is imbued with that one idea—she must have style. It is wrecking homes, breaking hearts and making a certain group of men rich. These men are reaping great rewards from the foolishness of a certain group of men in this country and in Europe, who are making alleged styles so fast that it is impossible to keep up with them. Twenty years ago, yes, ten years ago, styles changed two or three times in a year. Now it is that many times a month.
Miss Russell ought to know, and probably does know, but what then? The craze for new styles is not subject to reason. It is an obsession. When it leads to poverty it is scouted but not killed. Reason has nothing to do while the frenzy is on, and the passion rages more fiercely according to their means—among those who have a superfluity.—Hartford Times.

SOME LOCAL CHURCH HISTORY
The Origin of the Free Baptists and Their Career Up to The Present Time
The Pearl Street Free Baptist edifice was built in 1858-9, at an expense of $2500. They were then under the pastoral care of Rev. Seth W. Perkins. The dedication services began with the anthem, "I was glad," and were interspersed with suitable hymns, invocation by Rev. Mr. Hall of the Methodist church; scripture reading by Rev. Dr. Lamson of the Middle St. church; prayer by Rev. Mr. Rogers of Stratham; sermon by Rev. Mr. Carver of Dover; dedication prayer by Rev. Mr. Rand of Amesbury; address to the church and society by Rev. Lyman Whitling of the North. Communion, hymns were read by Rev. Messrs. Peabody and Holmes; benediction by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Perkins.
This church united with the New Durham Quarterly Meeting Feb. 20, 1834, and with the Rockingham Quarterly meeting in 1835.
Rev. Lot L. Harmon was a very active and useful pastor for eleven years, from 1866 to 1877. In 1870-71 the house was enlarged and remodeled, and during the fall of 1896 was repaired at an expense of several hundred dollars. The building and improvements left a debt of nearly $3000, which was finally canceled with expressions of great joy under the pastorate of Rev. J. D. Waldron (1884-87), and the church is now virtually out of debt, having but a small financial liability. The letting of the pews was abolished a few years since, and the church is now supported by free-will offerings if the people.
Since the reorganization the following pastors have officiated: John Pinkham, 1851; A. R. Bradbury, 1851; S. P. Fernald, 1855; Plummer Chesley, 1856; Seth W. Perkins, 1857; Lowell Parker, 1858; Francis Reed, 1859; Charles E. Haskell, 1863; Lot C. Harmon, 1866; Elmer Owen, 1878; J. H. Yeoman, 1880; S. J. Gould, 1883; J. D. Waldron, 1884; J. S. Harrington, 1888; A. G. Hill, 6 mos. supply; B. Minard, eleven months supply; L. E. Hall, 1894; Robert L. Duxton 1895; C. H. Tucker, 1903; Charles S. Frost, 1904; V. E. Bragdon, 1905; J. W. Scribner and W. H. Hall, supplies; Edwin P. Moulton from Sept. 9, 1909, (present pastor).
The officers of 1911 are: Deacon, Eben F. Brackett; clerk and treasurer, Miss Alice M. Chase; clerk of the society, W. T. Lord; treasurer, Miss Alice M. Hoyt. Trustees, Eben F. Brackett, Clinton H. Frye, Joseph F. Moore, Albert G. Hunt, Orel A. Dexter.
The good feeling existing between the churches of different denominations of former days is illustrated in the story told by Eld. David Marks, the first pastor of the church at the old South meeting house, of a visit he made in Portsmouth while located in Dover. It was Sunday, May 4, 1834, and he witnessed a union baptism of 13 Calvin Baptist, 12 Methodist and 11 Christian Baptist candidates. There were about four thousand spectators. The three ministers, arm-in-arm first went down into the water, and then each in turn baptized those pertaining to his church.

DON'T EXPERIMENT
You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Portsmouth Citizen's Advice
Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and not time to experiment. These are common symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is recommended for the kidneys.
Donn's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in Portsmouth. Follow the advice of a Portsmouth citizen.
Mrs. Robert Slaney, 30 Court St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I used Donn's Kidney Pills, procured at Phillips' Pharmacy two years ago, and they cured me of pain and lameness in the small of my back, and also restored my kidneys to normal condition. I can now do my housework with ease and have no trouble from my kidneys."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlwain Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Donn's—South meeting house, where they remained until the Pearl Street take the other.

SUPERIOR COURT

A Settlement Made in the Blaisdell Case

At this morning session of the Superior Court the action of Eben H. Blaisdell to recover damages from the Boston and Maine railroad for injuries received on Sept. 30, 1910, was resumed. The plaintiff's case had been put on, when there was a conference of counsel and a settlement was reached the railroad paying $700. Mr. Blaisdell was represented by Samuel W. Emery of Boston and Ernest L. Gault of this city and the road was looked after by Kelley, Harding and Hatch and Page, Bartlett and Mitchell.

For a mild, easy, easy action of the bowels, a single dose of Doan's Kidney Pills is enough. Treatment of habitual constipation, 25 cents a box. Ask your druggist for them.

KITTERY LETTER

The Ladies' Social circle of the Second Christian church has sent out cards on which is printed the following verse:

The Birthday Party is given to you, if something novel, 'tis nothing new, Attached to this card is a little sack— We wish you to send or bring it back.

With as many cents as you are years old; The number, we promise, will not be told.

We shall be thankful for what you give And hope you've lots of years to live. And you'll surely find a welcome most hearty.

To this our third: "Your Birthday Party." Attached to the card is a little bag in which the money can be put. A pleasing program is being prepared, and a good time is assured all who go. The affair takes place tomorrow evening at 7.30 in the vestry of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Frost Bickford of Pleasant street celebrated their silver wedding anniversary in a very pleasant manner on Monday evening. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion with green boughs and red berries, and bouquets of cut flowers. During the reception music was rendered by Miss Sadie Bickford, piano, and Miss Bessie Whidden, mandolin, and throughout the evening vocal selections were rendered. A delectable lunch was served, consisting of harlequin ice cream, fancy cookies, as sorted bon bons, fruit, nuts and coffee. The company dispersed at a late hour wishing Mr. and Mrs. Bickford many more happy wedding anniversaries. Relatives and friends were present from Exeter, Haverhill and Portsmouth.

Mrs. Charles Spinney of Lynn is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Saxton, of Rogers road.

Mrs. Charles Woods and children, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Keene took an automobile trip to Malden on Sunday to visit Mrs. William Brown, who is very ill at the Malden City hospital, the result of surgical treatment.

Harold Walker of Lynn passed Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Walker.

A special meeting of Naval Lodge of Masons will be held on Friday evening at Odd Fellows' hall, and work will be exemplified. Following the degree work a banquet will be given in the lower hall, and it is in charge of the ladies of the Eastern Star.

Riverside lodge, No. 72, I. O. O. F., met last evening and the initiatory degree was worked on a class of candidates.

Constitution Lodge, No. 88, Knights of Pythias meets this evening in Odd Fellows' hall.

Charles G. Woods of the Intervale is on a business trip to Indiana.

The baseball pictures at Music Hall together with the splendid vaudeville are attracting large crowds from the town.

Mrs. Justin Shaw of Pleasant street is restricted to the house by illness.

Dr. Lyon's PERFECT Tooth Powder is packed in a dust-tight metal box, with patent measuring tube, which is both safe and convenient for tourists.

Stirling of South Berwick, who have been visiting the latter's aunt, Mrs. Mary Fernald, have returned to their home.

Mrs. Marcia Frisber, who has been ill at her home for several weeks, is much improved.

Miss Eva Hutchins of New Castle was a visitor in town on Wednesday.

Fred Waldron has resumed his duties as an instructor on the A. S. R. R. after an illness.

Judson G. Irish has resumed duties as night watchman at the A. S. R. R. car barn, after a month's vacation.

What threatened to be a bad fire in the woods between the Norton and Bartlett roads was discovered on Sunday by a Mr. Hennessey. Most energetic efforts on his part until further help arrived, alone prevented the flames from eating their way into the valuable Carter wood lot adjoining.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. John H. Parrot has resumed work at the navy yard, after a vacation.

George S. Wasson's sloop "Bonnie Doon" was on Monday hauled out for the winter.

Mrs. Moses Randall, Mrs. Merrill Plunkham and daughter Mildred passed Monday in Dover.

Charles Leiby has resumed duty as painter for the A. S. R. R. car barn, after a vacation.

The Pearl Gatherers of the First Christian church will meet on Saturday at the home of Miss Bernice Billings.

South east storm warnings were displayed at an early hour on Monday, but the disturbance failed to materialize to any great extent in this section. Local fishermen, however, reported a heavy sea running outside and shipping in the lower harbor was practically at a standstill.

Ellery Jennison leaves today for Boston, where he will pass the winter. Fred Pike and George Godfrey remain in charge of his estate on Gerrish Island.

Hon. and Mrs. Horace Mitchell have been the recent guests of their daughter, Mrs. Hale, in Haverhill, Mass.

The revival meetings at the First Christian church were well attended last evening in spite of the rain. Rev. William P. Stanley will speak this evening and Mr. Stevens of Boston will be the soloist. All are invited.

TURKEY ASKS UNITED STATES TO INTERVENE

Claims Italians are Violating Every Code of the Hague Conference on War

Washington, Nov. 6.—The so-called news, unfortunately confirmed, of "Italian barbarities" in Tripoli have, wholesale executions of a great number of inhabitants of Tripoli, partition of the American Government in such form that some declaration of authorities. The right of all able-bodied citizens to fight, for the position of the State Department in the matter is now expected. The subject was first broached in a verbal statement by the Turkish ambassador to Acting Secretary Adee, and later in the day it came up in a letter. In each case the ambassador, who said he was acting by express instructions, cabled by his Government, described the acts attributed to the Italian troops and protested in the name of humanity against the atrocities committed by them upon helpless women and children and non-combatants. By order of his Government, the ambassador appealed to the United States to exert itself to put a stop to the practices which, he declared, were in plain violation of the rules of warfare and in contravention of the Hague convention to which the United States and Italy are parties. Acting Secretary Adee promised to submit the protest to Secretary Knox, who at present is absent on duty from Washington. The ambassador from the Turkish Minister for Foreign Affairs, of which the following are accredited because of such crimes against humanity committed by the Italians, the sad spectacle of which offers a striking contrast with the efforts, crowded with success and admitted by the Italians themselves, that our authorities in Tripoli and Benghazi have not ceased to display in order to safeguard the lives and property of the Italians as well as other Europeans, and that under the very fire of the enemy and in the midst of a justly indignant and over-excited population. Please read the present despatch to the Minister of Foreign Affairs, leaving at the same time a copy of same.

(Signed) Assin,
Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Supplementing this cablegram came another from the Turkish Foreign Office later in the day which was also transmitted to the State Department. This is regarded as of great importance because it formally demands intervention by the United States. It follows:

"The Italian atrocities in Tripoli being confirmed officially and from every quarter, I beg your excellency to reiterate the representations previously made in my preceding telegram to insist upon the necessity of prompt and efficacious intervention, in order to put an end immediately to these inhuman proceedings."

THE GREATEST OF DOG DETECTIVES

That truth is stranger than fiction has been strikingly demonstrated by "Sheba's Bob," the great dog detective of the New York Police Department, who has established a wonderful record catching over one hundred thieves in two years' time; tracked and returned to their parents at least fifteen lost children, disclosed the hiding place of a murderer, etc. This is but one of a full score of exclusive Magazine articles to be featured in next Sunday's New York World. STEAM OUT TO SEA.

First Squadron of Atlantic Battleship Fleet Will Remain Outside Until Thursday.

Newport, R. I., Nov. 6.—The first squadron of the Atlantic battleship fleet of the United States Navy, consisting of the flagship Connecticut and the battleships North Dakota, Michigan, Louisiana, Vermont, South Carolina and New Hampshire, left Newport today for the open sea, to remain until Thursday night or Friday morning. While at sea the squadron will engage in all kinds of drills and evolutions, including torpedo practice at full speed.

At 9 a. m. Rear Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, commander of the squadron, displayed the signal, "Get under weigh," from the flagship Connecticut, and 15 minutes later the great floating fortresses were steaming out to sea in single column, the ships being 400 yards distant from each other.

SHOT BY SCN

Accident Happens While on a Hunting Trip at Kingston

West Kingston, Nov. 5.—Believing that his father was behind him while they were out gunning yesterday afternoon, Ernest Goldwaite, aged 19, shot and terribly wounded Everhard Goldwaite, his father, when, as he fired at a bird, the shot glanced off a tree. In the thick underbrush the son did not see his father, nor knew that he was hit until he heard his groans. Although the shot severed an artery, it is expected that no serious consequences will result. The injured man lied profusely and the son tried to stop the flow of blood, but without avail. Then he picked him up in her arms and carried him to his home, where a physician attended him.

At the time of the accident, Mrs. Goldwaite, mother of the boy, and wife of the older man, was in Haverhill, Mass. Word was sent her and she returned at once.

EXETER ANDOVER

Foot Ball Eleven of the Two Colleges Meet Next Saturday

The annual football game between Andover and Exeter academies will be contested on Plimpton Field, Exeter, next Saturday, and it is estimated that about 10,000 persons will turn out to witness the classic event. Indications point strongly toward one of the best games ever witnessed between the teams. Exeter has not beaten Andover in football since 1904, but its chances were never brighter than they are this fall. Last fall it was Brown's style of coaching against Dartmouth's when the two eleven's met on Brothers' Field, Andover, and when the smoke cleared away Andover's system came out with flying colors.

We Get a Slap

The big coffee trust, made up of Brazilian growers and American importers, has been trying various tactics to boost the price of coffee and get more money from the people.

Always the man who is trying to dig extra money out of the public pocket, on a combination, hates the man who blocks the game.

Now comes the plaintive bleat from the "exasperated" ones.

The JOURNAL OF COMMERCE lately said: "A stirring circular has just been issued to the coffee trade." The article further says:

"The coffee world is discussing what is to be the future of coffee as a result of the campaign of mis-education carried on by the cereal coffee people. We have before us a letter from one of the largest roasters in the South asking what can be done to counteract the work of the enemies of coffee.

"The matter should have been taken up by the Brazilian Gov't when they were completing their beautiful valorization scheme."

Then the article proceeds to denounce Postum and works into a fine frenzy, because we have published facts regarding the effect of coffee on some people.

The harrowing tale goes on.

"Where a few years ago everybody drank coffee, several cups a day, now we find in every walk of life people who imagine they cannot drink it. The undercurrent is ours. Burly blacksmiths, carpenters, laborers and athletes have discontinued or cut down the use of coffee; as there is not a person who reads this and will not be able to find the same conditions existing among his own circle of acquaintances, is it not well for the Brazilians to sit up and take notice?"

ISN'T IT CURIOUS these "burly" strong men should pick out coffee to "imagine" about? Why not "imagine" that regular doses of whiskey are harmful, or daily slugs of morphine?

"Imagination" makes the caffeine in coffee clog the liver depress the heart and steadily ear-

down the nervous system, bringing on one or more of the dozens of types of diseases which follow broken-down nervous systems, many people don't know it.

But it remained for the man who has coffee, morphine or whiskey to sell, to have the supreme nerve to say: "You only imagine your disorders. Keep on buying from me."

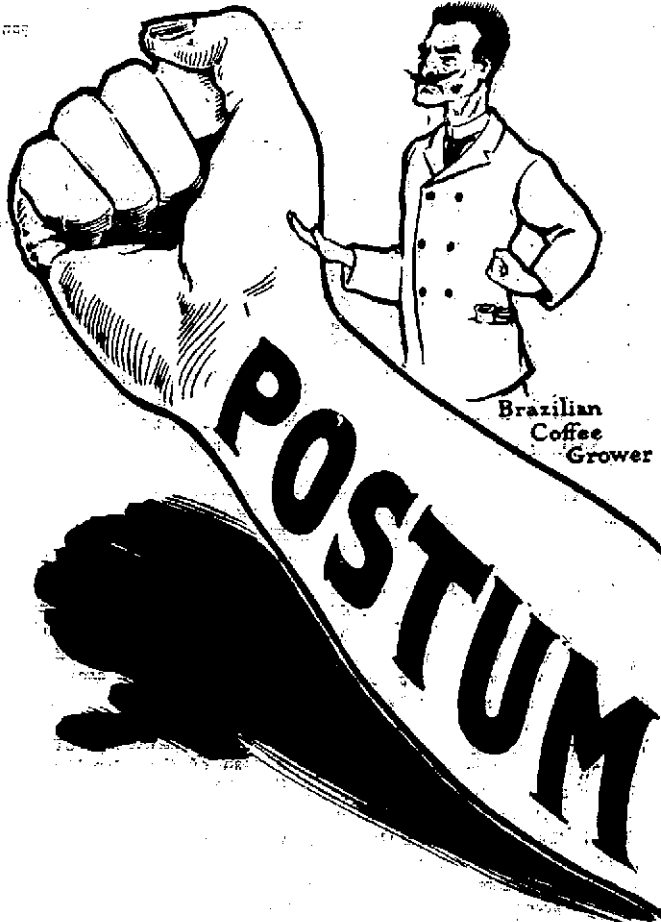

Let us continue to quote from his article:

"Notwithstanding the enormous increase in population during the past three years, coffee shows an appalling decrease in consumption."

Then follows a tiresome lot of statistics which wind up by showing a decrease of consumption in two years of, in round figures, two hundred million pounds.

Here we see the cause for the attacks on us and the Brazilian sneers at Americans who prefer to use a healthful, home-made breakfast drink and incidentally keep the money in America, rather than send the millions to Brazil and pay for an article that chemists class among the drugs and not among the foods.

Will the reader please remember, we never announce that coffee "hurts" all people."

Some persons seem to have excess vitality enough to use coffee, tobacco and whiskey for years and apparently be none the worse, but the number is small, and when a sensible man or woman finds an article acts harmfully they exercise some degree of intelligence by dropping it.

We quote again from the article: "These figures are paralyzing but correct, being taken from Leech's statistics, recognized as the most reliable."

This is one of the highest compliments ever paid to the level-headed, common sense of Americans who cut off about two hundred million pounds of coffee when they found by actual experiment (in the majority of cases) that the subtle drug caffeine, in coffee, worked discomfort and varying forms of disease.

Some people haven't the character to stop a habit when they know it is killing them, but it is easy to shift from coffee to Postum for, when made according to directions, it comes to table a cup of beverage, seal brown color, which turns to rich golden brown when cream is added, and the taste is very like the milder grades of Old Java.

Postum is a veritable food drink and highly nourishing, containing all the parts of wheat, carefully prepared to which is added about 10 per cent of New Orleans molasses, and that it absolutely all that Postum is made of.

Thousand of visitors to the pure food factories see the ingredients and how prepared. Every nook and corner is open for every visitor to carefully inspect. Crowds come daily and seem to enjoy it.

ISLAND RISES FROM THE SEA

Port of Spain, Trinidad, Nov. 6.—An island has suddenly risen from the sea in the Serpents Mouth Strait, between Trinidad and the Venezuelan coast.

The phenomenon was preceded by an extraordinary commotion in the sea from which burst huge columns of flames and smoke.

EEN HUR

"Ben Hur" is once again the topic of the hour in New England. The new greater, spectacular production of General Lew Wallace's awe-inspiring biblical narrative, staged at the historic Boston Theatre last week has received the highest praise from the entire Boston Press that has ever been extended to a theatrical production. The big playhouse has been filled to overflowing at every performance so far, and the people in attendance have unanimously set the seal of its approval on this gigantic and glittering spectacle—the Pinnacle of Twentieth century stage craft. For twelve years "Ben Hur" has enjoyed the greatest success ever known in the dramatic world. Beautiful and splendid as have been former presentations of this great play, their beauty and splendor paled into insignificance when the new production which has just come from the hands of the painters, costumers, property makers was shown to the Boston public. All of the glory and beauty of the far East, the warmth of color, the richness of material and the exquisite harmony of landscape which make the tropical countries seem like everlasting gardens, have been transferred to the stage in this new setting of the great drama. The grandeur of the theme which has made "Ben Hur" the most read book and the most seen play seem scarcely less sublime than the wonderful production which has been provided for the unfolding of the story in this newest edition of the play.

The cast assembled for this big revival of General Wallace's drama is a notable one. Richard Butler is the Ben Hur. William J. Kelley is Messala, Oscar Adye is Simonides, Mary Price is Lidian, Emmett C. King is Artus, Lillian Lawrence is the mother of Hur, Rose Beaudet is Amrah, Marion Barney is Iras, Cecil Kern is Escher and Alice Haynes is Tirzah. Besides a number of other distinguished and skilled players. A hundred trained choristers sing Edward Stillman Kelley's music composed especially for "Ben Hur," a troupe of ballet dancers present the dance in the Grove of Daphne, and a horde of practiced supernumeraries numbering 400 give effect to the scenes in which masses of people lend majesty and dignity to the theme. In the chariot race 20 thoroughbred racers battle for supremacy.

RESCUED WHEN NEAR DEATH

Fire Destroys the Well Known Schooner William K. Park

New York, Nov. 7.—The American liner New York, due at her pier next Saturday, is bringing in Capt. William A. Reed, and the officers and crew of the four masted schooner William K. Park of Somers Point, N. J., abandoned at sea after a desperate struggle, on Oct. 9, off Newfoundland, afterward destroyed by fire.

The captain and crew, numbering nine men altogether, had a narrow escape from death. They were carried to Havre by a British tramp steamer, and have been there ever since in the care of the American consulate.

On Sunday, Oct. 8, a day before being rescued by the British tramp, the schooner was passed by a German passenger steamer, which went close by her in broad daylight without paying any attention to her signals of distress. The schooner was then badly waterlogged and in imminent danger of sinking.

The William K. Park, owned by P. B. Reed of Philadelphia, sailed from Bridgewater, N. S., Sept. 27, with a cargo of Buenos Ayres. Her officers were Capt. William A. Reed of 277 West 17th street, this city; Christopher Rasmussen, first officer, and Charles Olsen, second officer, with five men and a cook.

On Sept. 30 the Park was struck by a hurricane. Two men were washed to the wheel, and, together with Capt. Reed himself, made an effort to keep her head up. The following day the gale and sea continued, and the deckhouses were washed away by a wave that flooded the cabin and practically wiped out the supply of extra provisions and fresh water.

Capt. Reed and his crew made a desperate fight to save the schooner, but things went from bad to worse, until the crew was finally rescued by the crew of the British tramp steamer Elaine, Capt. Charles S. Newton, from Savannah for Havre with a cargo which carried them to the French port.

EXETER

Company 3, C. A. C., held an informal gathering last evening in the company's quarters in the town hall. A clam supper was served. The meeting was primarily to make arrangements for the work this winter. Hereafter the weekly drills will be held Monday evenings.

The company is in good standing and had a successful season last year. A feature was the sham battle with the New Hampshire college cadets, which was held last day. This was a pleasant diversion for the holiday and it will likely be arranged for next year.

The steam rollers will be at work for a short period where Highway Agent Newell S. Tilton is resurfacing a small piece of highway on the square. Improvements have been recently completed on High street near the iron bridge.

The funeral service of Elizabeth Watkins was held yesterday afternoon at Brentwood, where she died last Saturday morning. Miss Watkins was known in Exeter where she for a long period was in the family of the late Dr. William G. Perry, one of Exeter's physicians of active practice several years ago.

Miss Watkins was born in North Ireland but came to America in her girlhood. She died at the home of her sister, Mrs. James Knox. The services were conducted by the Rev. Henry E. Quimby, pastor of the Methodist church here, and were held at 10 o'clock. The burial was in Exeter. Miss Watkins is survived by a brother, James of Amesbury, Mass., and two sisters, Mrs. James Knox of Brentwood and Mrs. Margaret Young of Boston.

There was a great rush for the tickets for the Exeter-Andover game when they went on sale Monday.

Fruit Cake

(Recipe by Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln)
Mix four cups sifted pastry flour, one level teaspoon soda, two level teaspoons mixed spices (except cloves), one-fourth level teaspoon salt, and two cups seeded and quartered raisins. Add also one-half cup nuts chopped fine, if you like. Blend one-half cup Cottoleone with one cup brown sugar and one cup white sugar, add one cup molasses, one cup milk and then the flour mixture. Beat well and bake in two pans.

You will find this fruit cake as light, moist, flavorful as any you ever made. It is a winter favorite. You save something too by using Cottoleone—the perfect shortening.

ON HIS FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Chief Randall Presents Steamer 2 With a Portrait of Himself

On the fortieth anniversary of his admission to the fire department, Monday evening, Chief Engineer John D. Randall presented a picture of himself to the crew of Steamer 2, the company with which he was first affiliated. The company conducted a social in his honor. Chief Engineer Randall served two terms as foreman of the company soon after his admission. For fifteen terms he has been chief engineer of the fire department and during five other terms he has served on the board of firemen. He also is a moving spirit in the affairs of firemen's associations and of the organizations composed of veteran firemen.

New Arrangement of Physical Test. Beginning January 1, 1912 a monthly exercise shall be required of all officers on the active list of the navy and warm corps excepting those of the naval academy.

A walk of ten miles in one day, the walk for the day to be completed in not more than four hours and in not less than three and one-half consecutive hours.

When the required monthly exercise is taken by officers serving within the tropics, or at any place where the temperature is correspondingly high at the time of the exercise, the dis-

What a Workman Says and Thinks

F. W. Probert a moulder at New York yard and an officer of the Moulders' Union appeared before the committee of Congress who are investigating government work shops and told the Congressmen that the equipment at Brooklyn Yard was forty years in the rear. He said while he was working for the richest boss in the world he never saw such conditions as exist at Brooklyn.

He quoted the sanitary condition and then took a crack at the system of scientific management as in use here. It is not the Taylor System, out Probert said it was not needed.

He argued that there could be greater production at the navy yard without additional cost if the men had the proper tools and the plant was up to date.

"He didn't believe that a system with a time clock could make a man work and said the men did not favor systems."

Another witness, Mr. Brumbacher, said that it was almost impossible to keep the employes from taking unnecessary risks. No matter what precautions were taken he usually would disregard them. Mr. Brumbacher knew of any number of cases where safety appliances were installed yet the employes insisted upon not using them. Congressman Redfield, of the committee who is an employer, upheld Mr. Brumbacher.

Where the Approach Will Be

In selecting a site for the approach of the new navy yard bridge from Kittery, it is said that the land between the Orman House and Trape Mansion will be required and that negotiations are on for the purchase of that space of land.

A Good Man Gone

Rear Admiral James B. Sands one of the best navy officers ever stationed at this yard, died recently at Washington. He was appointed from Maryland to the academy Nov. 22, 1859. He commanded the U. S. S. Columbia during the Spanish war and was Captain of the Portsmouth yard in 1894.
